Potty training

"One of the ways we can make your child's nursery experience smoother and more enjoyable is by encouraging as much independence as possible.

A really important part of this is toilet training. While we understand every child develops at their own pace, we kindly ask that you begin working on potty training before your child starts nursery.
This helps them feel more confident, reduces anxiety during the day, and allows our staff to focus on supporting their learning and play.
Of course, we're here to support and guide you through the process if you need advice or resources."

UNWELL?
SHOULD MY CHILD ATTEND SCHOOL?

It can be tricky deciding whether or not to keep your child off school when they’re unwell. There are government guidelines for schools and nurseries about managing specific infectious diseases at GOV.UK. These say when children should be kept off school and when they shouldn’t.
If you do keep your child at home, it’s important to email or call us on the first day. Let us know that your child won’t be in and give the reason. Below is a handy guide to help you.

Coughs and colds	It’s fine to send your child to school with a minor cough or common cold. But if they have a fever, keep them off school until the fever goes. Encourage your child to throw away any used tissues and to wash their hands regularly.
High temperature	If your child has a high temperature, keep them off school until it goes away.
Sore throat	You can still send your child to school if they have a sore throat. But if they also have a high temperature, they should stay at home until it goes away. A sore throat and a high temperature can be symptoms of tonsillitis.
Vomiting and diarrhoea	Children with diarrhoea or vomiting must stay away from school until they have not been sick or had diarrhoea for at least 2 days (48 hours).
Chickenpox	If your child has chickenpox, keep them off school until all the spots have crusted over. This is usually about 5 days after the spots first appeared.
Cold sores	There’s no need to keep your child off school if they have a cold sore. Encourage them not to touch the blister or kiss anyone while they have the cold sore, or to share things like cups and towels.
Ear infection	If your child has an ear infection and a high temperature or severe earache, keep them off school until they’re feeling better or their high temperature goes away.
Head lice and nits	There’s no need to keep your child off school if they have head lice. You can treat head lice and nits without seeing a GP, pharmacies and supermarkets sell products to treat them.
Aches and pains	If not accompanied by other symptoms such as a high temperature, there is no need to keep your child off school.
Tired	Tiredness is not a reason to keep your child off school.
Impetigo	If your child has impetigo, they’ll need treatment from a GP, often with antibiotics. Keep them off school until all the sores have crusted over and healed, or for 48 hours after they start antibiotic treatment. Encourage your child to wash their hands regularly and not to share things like towels and cups with other children at school.

When a pupil is absent from school for illness reasons, the register will be marked as an authorised absence. Where persistent ill health is affecting a pupil’s attendance, we will ask for medical evidence to authorise the absence.

To report your child’s absence, please email attendance@stpeters.wales or telephone 029 20497847 option 1.
